New shapes, new colours, new sensations.

Discover the brightest and most alive proposals of the sector that does not stop innovating.

The countertop wash basins have lost their old days prominence in the interest of sinks made of Natural Stone which seem to challenge the law of gravity.

We give birth to a new space that flees the compact image and let its self capture by the enchantment of the modular conception, more free and flexible.

Thanks to the diversity of materials in which it is offered, it can be combined with any kind of environment. Colour and design break into the most private room of your home, for you to show off your bathroom.

Please see model made of an exotic Pink Stone, also available in other materials and colours such as white, beige, cream, yellow, pink, red, grey, black, …

We offer three choices: normal model, under counter and vessel with a polished exterior. All of them suitable either for bathrooms or kitchens.
